8       SYNOPSIS:               Under existing law, a state of emergency may 9                               be declared by the Governor by proclamation or by 10                              the Legislature by joint resolution. A state of 11                              emergency terminates after 60 days unless extended
12                              by proclamation of the Governor or joint resolution 13                              of the Legislature.

14                             This bill would provide that a state of 15                             emergency terminates after 14 days and may be 16                             extended only by joint resolution of the 17                             Legislature or, if the Legislature is not in 18                             session, by joint proclamation of the President Pro
19                             Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House
20                             of Representatives.

21                             This bill would provide that an order or 22                             directive issued by the State Health Officer 23                             relating to the outbreak of a disease or pandemic 24                             has the full force and effect of law once it is 25                             approved by the Governor and a copy is filed with 26                             the Office of the Secretary of State.

1                   This bill would provide that the President
2                   Pro Tempore of the Senate, in addition to the 3                   Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House of 4                   Representatives, may request in writing that the 5                   Governor call the Legislature into special session
6                   upon proclamation of a state of emergency.

7                   Also under existing law, during a state of 8                   emergency, the Governor may file with the Secretary 9                   of State an order or other directive that has the 10                  effect of suspending a law, ordinance, rule, or 11                  regulation once the Governor files the directive
12                  with the Secretary of State.

13                  This bill would require the Governor to 14                  provide a copy of a directive having the effect of 15                  suspending a law to the President Pro Tempore of 16                  the Senate and the Speaker of the House of 17                  Representatives 48 hours before the directive may 18                  take effect, with exceptions when the Governor 19                  determines delaying the effect of a directive may 20                  result in an imminent threat to human life.
