The Denver health and hospital authority (authority) provides health care services for all citizens of Denver, regardless of ability to pay. The authority is currently governed by a 9-member board of directors (board) that is responsible for the operation of the authority. The members of the board are appointed by the Denver mayor, and each member serves a 5-year term.

Shading denotes HOUSE amendment. Double underlining denotes SENATE amendment.
*Capital letters indicate new material to be added to existing statute.

HOUSE
Amended 2nd Reading
February 3, 2015

The bill increases the number of members on the board from 9 to 11 beginning on July 1, 2015. The initial and subsequent terms of both new members appointed by the mayor are 5 years.

The bill deletes a reference to the Denver board of health and hospitals, as that board no longer exists.

In addition, the bill eliminates the current process for removing a board member from the board and creates a new process for a board member to be removed from the board. Currently, any board member may only be removed by the mayor or by the Denver city council for any cause that renders the member unfit for the position. Beginning on July 1, 2015, any member may be removed upon a unanimous vote of the board, excluding the member to be removed, and approval of the mayor. A member removed from the board pursuant to the new removal process does not have the right to appeal the board's decision.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:
