Comparison of a signature on a payment order or communication with an authorized specimen signature of the customer or requiring a payment order to be sent from a known email address, IP address, or telephone number is not by itself a security procedure."

(c) Commercial reasonableness of a security procedure is a question of law to be determined by considering the wishes of the customer expressed to the bank, the circumstances of the customer known to the bank, including the size, type, and frequency of payment orders normally issued by the customer to the bank, alternative security procedures offered to the customer, and security procedures in general use by customers and receiving banks similarly situated. A security procedure is deemed to be commercially reasonable if (i) the security procedure was chosen by the customer after the bank offered, and the customer refused, a security procedure that was commercially reasonable for that customer, and (ii) the customer expressly

(d) The term "sender" in this Article includes the customer in whose name a payment order is issued if the order is the authorized order of the customer under ~~subsection (a), or it~~ subsection (a) of this section or if the order is effective as the order of the customer under subsection (b)-(b) of this section.

(e) This section applies to amendments and cancellations of payment orders to the same extent it applies to payment orders.

Information includes any access device, computer software, or the like.

(b) This section applies to amendments of payment orders to the same extent it applies to payment orders."

SECTION 137. G.S. 25-4A-207 reads as rewritten:

"§ 25-4A-207. Misdescription of beneficiary.

(a) Subject to subsection ~~(b), (b)~~ of this section, if, in a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank, the name, bank account number, or other identification of the beneficiary refers to a nonexistent or unidentifiable person or account, no person has rights as a beneficiary of the order and acceptance of the order cannot occur.

(b) If a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank identifies the beneficiary both by name and by an identifying or bank account number and the name and number identify different persons, the following rules apply:

- (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection ~~(c), (c)~~ of this section, if the beneficiary's bank does not know that the name and number refer to different persons, it may rely on the number as the proper identification of the beneficiary of the order. The beneficiary's bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person.
- (2) If the beneficiary's bank pays the person identified by name or knows that the name and number identify different persons, no person has rights as beneficiary except the person paid by the beneficiary's bank if that person was entitled to receive payment from the originator of the funds transfer. If no person has rights as beneficiary, acceptance of the order cannot occur.

(c) If (i) a payment order described in subsection (b) of this section is accepted, (ii) the originator's payment order described the beneficiary inconsistently by name and number, and (iii) the beneficiary's bank pays the person identified by number as permitted by ~~subsection (b)(1), subdivision (b)(1) of this section,~~ the following rules apply:

- (1) If the originator is a bank, the originator is obliged to pay its order.
- (2) If the originator is not a bank and proves that the person identified by number was not entitled to receive payment from the originator, the originator is not obliged to pay its order unless the originator's bank proves that the originator, before acceptance of the originator's order, had notice that payment of a payment order issued by the originator might be made by the beneficiary's bank on the basis of an identifying or bank account number even if it identifies a person different from the named beneficiary. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The originator's bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the originator, before the payment order was accepted, signed a writing record stating the information to which the notice relates.

(d) In a case governed by ~~subsection (b)(1), subdivision (b)(1) of this section,~~ if the beneficiary's bank rightfully pays the person identified by number and that person was not entitled to receive payment from the originator, the amount paid may be recovered from that person to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution as follows:

- (1) If the originator is obliged to pay its payment order as stated in subsection ~~(e), (c) of this section,~~ the originator has the right to recover.
- (2) If the originator is not a bank and is not obliged to pay its payment order, the originator's bank has the right to recover."

SECTION 138. G.S. 25-4A-208 reads as rewritten:

"§ 25-4A-208. Misdescription of intermediary bank or beneficiary's bank.

(a) ~~This subsection applies~~ Both of the following apply to a payment order identifying an intermediary bank or the beneficiary's bank only by an identifying ~~number~~ number:

- (1) The receiving bank may rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank and need not determine whether the number identifies a bank.
- (2) The sender is obliged to compensate the receiving bank for any loss and expenses incurred by the receiving bank as a result of its reliance on the number in executing or attempting to execute the order.

(b) ~~This subsection applies~~ All of the following apply to a payment order identifying an intermediary bank or the beneficiary's bank both by name and an identifying number if the name and number identify different ~~persons~~ persons:

- (1) If the sender is a bank, the receiving bank may rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank, when it executes the sender's order, does not know that the name and number identify different persons. The receiving bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person or whether the number refers to a bank. The sender is obliged to compensate the receiving bank for any loss and expenses incurred by the receiving bank as a result of its reliance on the number in executing or attempting to execute the order.
- (2) If the sender is not a bank and the receiving bank proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, had notice that the receiving bank might rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank even if it identifies a person different from the bank identified by name, the rights and obligations of the sender and the receiving bank are governed by ~~subsection (b)(1), subdivision (b)(1) of this section,~~ as though the sender were a bank. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The receiving bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, signed a ~~writing record~~ stating the information to which the notice relates.

- (3) Regardless of whether the sender is a bank, the receiving bank may rely on the name as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank, at the time it executes the sender's order, does not know that the name and number identify different persons. The receiving bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person.
- (4) If the receiving bank knows that the name and number identify different persons, reliance on either the name or the number in executing the sender's payment order is a breach of the obligation stated in G.S. 25-4A-302(a)(1)."

SECTION 139. G.S. 25-4A-210 reads as rewritten:

"§ 25-4A-210. Rejection of payment order.

(a) A payment order is rejected by the receiving bank by a notice of rejection transmitted to the sender ~~orally, electronically, or in writing. orally or in a record.~~ A notice of rejection need not use any particular words and is sufficient if it indicates that the receiving bank is rejecting the order or will not execute or pay the order. Rejection is effective when the notice is given if transmission is by a means that is reasonable in the circumstances. If notice of rejection is given by a means that is not reasonable, rejection is effective when the notice is received. If an agreement of the sender and receiving bank establishes the means to be used to reject a payment order, (i) any means complying with the agreement is reasonable and (ii) any means not complying is not reasonable unless no significant delay in receipt of the notice resulted from the use of the noncomplying means.

SECTION 140. G.S. 25-4A-211 reads as rewritten:

"§ 25-4A-211. Cancellation and amendment of payment order.

(a) A communication of the sender of a payment order cancelling or amending the order may be transmitted to the receiving bank ~~orally, electronically, or in writing. orally or in a record.~~ If a security procedure is in effect between the sender and the receiving bank, the communication is not effective to cancel or amend the order unless the communication is verified pursuant to the security procedure or the bank agrees to the cancellation or amendment.

(b) Subject to subsection ~~(a), (a) of this section,~~ a communication by the sender cancelling or amending a payment order is effective to cancel or amend the order if notice of the communication is received at a time and in a manner affording the receiving bank a reasonable opportunity to act on the communication before the bank accepts the payment order.

(c) After a payment order has been accepted, cancellation or amendment of the order is not effective unless the receiving bank agrees or a funds-transfer system rule allows cancellation or amendment without agreement of the bank. The following provisions apply:

- (1) With respect to a payment order accepted by a receiving bank other than the beneficiary's bank, cancellation or amendment is not effective unless a conforming cancellation or amendment of the payment order issued by the receiving bank is also made.
- (2) With respect to a payment order accepted by the beneficiary's bank, cancellation or amendment is not effective unless the order was issued in execution of an unauthorized payment order, or because of a mistake by a sender in the funds transfer ~~which that~~ resulted in the issuance of a payment order (i) that is a duplicate of a payment order previously issued by the sender, (ii) that orders payment to a beneficiary not entitled to receive payment from the originator, or (iii) that orders payment in an amount greater than the amount the beneficiary was entitled to receive from the originator. An attached security interest becomes unperfected on the adjustment date unless the security interest becomes a perfected security interest under this Part before the adjustment date.

"§ 54D-3. Scope; choice of law; forum.

(a) This Chapter applies to a special deposit under an account agreement that states the intention of the parties to establish a special deposit governed by this Chapter, regardless of whether a party to the account agreement or a transaction related to the special deposit, or the special deposit itself, has a reasonable relation to this State.

(b) The parties to an account agreement may choose a forum in this State for settling a dispute arising out of the special deposit, regardless of whether a party to the account agreement or a transaction related to the special deposit, or the special deposit itself, has a reasonable relation to this State.

(c) This Chapter does not affect either of the following:

- (1) A right or obligation relating to a deposit other than a special deposit under this Chapter.
- (2) The voidability of a deposit or transfer that is fraudulent or voidable under other law.

"§ 54D-4. Variation by agreement or amendment.

(a) The effect of G.S. 54D-2 through G.S. 54D-6, G.S. 54D-8 through G.S. 54D-11, and G.S. 54D-14 shall not be varied by agreement, except as provided in those sections. Subject to subsection (b) of this section, the effect of G.S. 54D-7, 54D-12, and 54D-13 may be varied by agreement.

(b) A provision in an account agreement or other record that substantially excuses liability or substantially limits remedies for failure to perform an obligation under this Chapter is not sufficient to vary the effect of a provision of this Chapter.

(c) If a beneficiary is a party to an account agreement, the bank and the depositor may amend the agreement without the consent of the beneficiary only if the agreement expressly permits the amendment.

(d) If a beneficiary is not a party to an account agreement and the bank and the depositor know the beneficiary has knowledge of the agreement's terms, the bank and the depositor may amend the agreement without the consent of the beneficiary only if the amendment does not adversely and materially affect a payment right of the beneficiary.

(e) If a beneficiary is not a party to an account agreement and the bank and the depositor do not know whether the beneficiary has knowledge of the agreement's terms, the bank and the depositor may amend the agreement without the consent of the beneficiary only if the amendment is made in good faith.

"§ 54D-5. Requirements for special deposit.

A deposit is a special deposit if all of the following apply:

- (1) The deposit is a deposit of funds in a bank under an account agreement.
- (2) The deposit is for the benefit of at least two beneficiaries, one or more of which may be a depositor.
- (3) The deposit is denominated in a medium of exchange that is currently authorized or adopted by a domestic or foreign government.
- (4) The deposit is for a permissible purpose stated in the account agreement.
- (5) The deposit is subject to a contingency.

"§ 54D-6. Permissible purpose.

(a) A special deposit must serve at least one permissible purpose stated in the account agreement from the time the special deposit is created in the account agreement until termination of the special deposit.

(b) If, before termination of the special deposit, the bank or a court determines the special deposit no longer satisfies subsection (a) of this section, G.S. 54D-8 through G.S. 54D-11 cease to apply to any funds deposited in the special deposit after the special deposit ceases to satisfy subsection (a) of this section.

(c) If, before termination of a special deposit, the bank determines the special deposit no longer satisfies subsection (a) of this section, the bank may take action it believes is necessary under the circumstances, including terminating the special deposit.

"§ 54D-7. Payment to beneficiary by bank.

(a) Unless the account agreement provides otherwise, the bank shall discharge its obligation to a beneficiary when it is obligated to pay the beneficiary and there are sufficient actually and finally collected funds in the balance of the special deposit.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, the obligation to pay the beneficiary is excused if the funds available in the special deposit are insufficient to cover the payment.

(c) Unless the account agreement provides otherwise, if the funds available in the special deposit are insufficient to cover an obligation to pay a beneficiary, a beneficiary may elect to be paid the funds that are available or, if there is more than one beneficiary, a pro rata share of the funds available. Payment to the beneficiary making the election under this subsection discharges the bank's obligation to pay a beneficiary and does not constitute an accord and satisfaction with respect to another person obligated to the beneficiary.

(d) Unless the account agreement provides otherwise, the obligation of the bank obligated to pay a beneficiary is immediately due and payable.

(e) The bank may discharge its obligation under this section by doing either of the following:

(1) Crediting another transaction account of the beneficiary.

(2) Taking other action that either is permitted under the account agreement for the bank to obtain a discharge or otherwise would constitute a discharge under law.

(f) If the bank obligated to pay a beneficiary has incurred an obligation to discharge the obligation of another person, the obligation of the other person is discharged if action by the bank under subsection (e) of this section would constitute a discharge of the obligation of the other person under law that determines whether an obligation is satisfied.

"§ 54D-8. Property interest of depositor or beneficiary.

(a) Neither a depositor nor a beneficiary has a property interest in a special deposit.

(b) Any property interest with respect to a special deposit is only in the right to receive payment if the bank is obligated to pay a beneficiary and not in the special deposit itself. Any property interest under this subsection is determined under other law.

"§ 54D-9. When creditor process enforceable against bank.

(a) Subject to subsection (b) of this section, creditor process with respect to a special deposit is not enforceable against the bank holding the special deposit.

(b) Creditor process is enforceable against the bank holding a special deposit with respect to an amount the bank is obligated to pay a beneficiary or a depositor if all of the following apply:

(1) The process is served on the bank.

(2) The process provides sufficient information to permit the bank to identify the depositor or the beneficiary from the bank's books and records.

(3) The process gives the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on the process.

(c) Creditor process served on a bank before it is enforceable against the bank under subsection (b) of this section does not create a right of the creditor against the bank or a duty of the bank to the creditor. Other law determines whether creditor process creates a lien enforceable against the beneficiary on a contingent interest of a beneficiary, including a depositor as a beneficiary, even if not enforceable against the bank.

"§ 54D-10. Injunction or similar relief.

A court may enjoin, or grant similar relief that would have the effect of enjoining, a bank from paying a depositor or beneficiary only if payment would constitute a material fraud or facilitate a material fraud with respect to a special deposit.

"§ 54D-11. Recoupment or set off.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) or (c) of this section, a bank shall not exercise a right of recoupment or set off against a special deposit.

(b) An account agreement may authorize the bank to debit the special deposit in any of the following circumstances:

- (1) When the bank becomes obligated to pay a beneficiary, in an amount that does not exceed the amount necessary to discharge the obligation.
- (2) For a fee assessed by the bank that relates to an overdraft in the special deposit account.
- (3) For costs incurred by the bank that relate directly to the special deposit.
- (4) To reverse an earlier credit posted by the bank to the balance of the special deposit account, if the reversal occurs under an event or circumstance warranted under other law of this State governing mistake and restitution.

(c) The bank holding a special deposit may exercise a right of recoupment or set off against an obligation to pay a beneficiary, even if the bank funds payment from the special deposit.

"§ 54D-12. Duties and liability of bank.

(a) A bank does not have a fiduciary duty to any person with respect to a special deposit.

(b) When the bank holding a special deposit becomes obligated to pay a beneficiary, a debtor-creditor relationship arises between the bank and beneficiary.

(c) The bank holding a special deposit has a duty to a beneficiary to comply with the account agreement and this Chapter.

(d) If the bank holding a special deposit does not comply with the account agreement or this Chapter, the bank is liable to a depositor or beneficiary only for damages proximately caused by the noncompliance. Except as provided by other law of this State, the bank is not liable for consequential, special, or punitive damages.

(e) The bank holding a special deposit may rely on records presented in compliance with the account agreement to determine whether the bank is obligated to pay a beneficiary.

(f) If the account agreement requires payment on presentation of a record, the bank shall determine within a reasonable time whether the record is sufficient to require payment. If the agreement requires action by the bank on presentation of a record, the bank is not liable for relying in good faith on the genuineness of the record if the record appears on its face to be genuine.

(g) Unless the account agreement provides otherwise, the bank is not required to determine whether a permissible purpose stated in the agreement continues to exist.

"§ 54D-13. Term and termination.

(a) Unless otherwise provided in the account agreement, a special deposit terminates five years after the date the special deposit was first funded.

(b) Unless otherwise provided in the account agreement, if the bank cannot identify or locate a beneficiary entitled to payment when the special deposit is terminated, and a balance remains in the special deposit, the bank shall pay the balance to the depositor or depositors as a beneficiary or beneficiaries.

(c) A bank that pays the remaining balance as provided under subsection (b) of this section has no further obligation with respect to the special deposit.

"§ 54D-14. Principles of law and equity.

Chapter 25 ("Uniform Commercial Code") of the General Statutes, G.S. 1A-1, Rule 22 ("Interpleader"), consumer protection law, law governing deposits generally, law related to escheat and abandoned or unclaimed property, and the principles of law and equity, including law related to capacity to contract, principal and agent, estoppel, fraud, misrepresentation, duress, coercion, mistake, and bankruptcy, supplement this Chapter except to the extent inconsistent with this Chapter.

"§ 54D-15. Uniformity of application and construction.

In applying and construing this Chapter, a court shall consider the promotion of uniformity of the law among jurisdictions that enact the Uniform Special Deposits Act."

SECTION 159. The Revisor of Statutes shall cause to be printed, as annotations to the published General Statutes, all relevant portions of the Official Comments to the Uniform Special Deposits Act and all explanatory comments of the drafters of this Part as the Revisor may deem appropriate.
