

114TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 3530

To eliminate mandatory minimum sentences for all drug offenses.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SEPTEMBER 16, 2015

Ms. MAXINE WATERS of California (for herself, Mr. HONDA, Mr. GRIJALVA, Mr. FATAH, Mr. BRADY of Pennsylvania, Mr. ELLISON, Ms. LEE, Ms. NORTON, Mr. POCAN, and Mr. COHEN) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, and in addition to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned

A BILL

To eliminate mandatory minimum sentences for all drug offenses.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Mandatory Minimum
5 Reform Act of 2015”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress makes the following findings:

1 (1) Mandatory minimum sentences are statu-
2 torily prescribed terms of imprisonment that auto-
3 matically attach upon conviction of certain criminal 4 conduct, usually pertaining to drug or firearm of-5 fenses. Absent very narrow criteria for relief, a sen-
6 tencing judge is powerless to mandate a term of im-
7 prisonment below the mandatory minimum. Manda-
8 tory minimum sentences for drug offenses rely solely 9 upon the weight of the substance as a proxy for the 10 degree of involvement of a defendant's role.

11 (2) In the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986, and 12 at the height of the public outcry over crack cocaine,
13 Congress acted hastily, without sufficient hearings,
14 and enacted hard line penalties that targeted low-15 level drug offenders. These penalties included new,
16 long mandatory minimum sentences for such offend-
17 ers.

18 (3) According to the Bureau of Prisons, in 19 1986, when the new drug law containing lengthy 20 mandatory minimum sentences passed, the prison
21 population was 36,000. Today, the Federal prison
22 population is over 210,000 prisoners, up almost 600
23 percent in 29 years.

1 (4) According to the Bureau of Prisons, the av-
2 erage cost to keep one prisoner in Federal prison for 3 one year is approximately $29,000.

4 (5) According to the Office of Management and 5 Budget, annual spending on the Federal prison sys-
6 tem rose 595 percent, from $970,000,000 to more 7 than $6.7 billion in inflation-adjusted dollars, be-8 tween 1980 and 2013.

9 (6) According to the U.S. Sentencing Commis-
10 sion, between 1995 and 2010, over 400,000 drug of-11 fenders were sentenced under Federal law; of these,
12 almost 250,000 (61 percent) received mandatory
13 minimum sentences.

14 (7) According to the U.S. Sentencing Commis-
15 sion, drug offenders released from prison in 1986
16 who had been sentenced before the adoption of man-17 datory sentences and sentencing guidelines had 18 served an average of 22 months in prison. In 2013,
19 almost two-thirds of all drug offenders received a 20 mandatory sentence, with most receiving a 10-year
21 minimum. Most of these offenders are nonviolent or 22 lower-level offenders with little or no criminal his-23 tory: in 2013, 49.6 percent had few or no prior con-
24 victions, 83.8 percent did not have weapons involved

1 in their offense, and only 7 percent were considered
2 leaders, managers, or supervisors of drug operations.

3 (8) Mandatory minimum sentences have con-
4 sistently been shown to have a disproportionate im-
5 pact on African-Americans. The United States Sen-
6 tencing Commission, in a 15-year overview of the 7 Federal sentencing system, concluded that “manda-8 tory penalty statutes are used inconsistently” and 9 disproportionately affect African-American defend-10 ants. African-American drug defendants are 20 per-11 cent more likely to be sentenced to prison than 12 White drug defendants.

13 (9) According to the U.S. Sentencing Commis-
14 sion, between 1994 and 2003, the average time 15 served by African-Americans for a drug offense in-16 creased by 62 percent, compared to a 17 percent in-17 crease among White drug defendants.

18 (10) According to the Substance Abuse and 19 Mental Health Services Administration, Government
20 surveys document that drug use is roughly con-
21 sistent across racial and ethnic groups. While there
22 is less data available regarding drug sellers, research 23 from the Office of National Drug Control Policy and 24 the National Institute of Justice has found that 25 drug users generally buy drugs from someone of

1 their own racial or ethnic background. But, accord-
2 ing to the U.S. Sentencing Commission, over 70 per-3 cent of all Federal narcotics offenders sentenced 4 each year are African-Americans and Hispanic-
5 Americans, many of whom are low-level offenders.

6 (11) As a result of Federal prosecutors' focus
7 on low-level drug offenders, the overwhelming major-
8 ity of individuals subject to the heightened crack co-9 caine penalties are African-American. According to 10 the U.S. Sentencing Commission's 2007 Report to 11 Congress on crack cocaine, only 8.8 percent of Fed-12 eral crack cocaine convictions were imposed on 13 White Americans, while 81.8 percent and 8.4 per-14 cent were imposed on African-American and His-15 panics, respectively.

16 (12) According to the U.S. Census, African-17 Americans comprise 12 percent of the U.S. popu-18 lation and, according to the Substance Abuse and 19 Mental Health Services Administration, about 10
20 percent of all drug users, but almost 26.5 percent of 21 all Federal drug convictions according to the U.S.
22 Sentencing Commission.

23 (13) According to the U.S. Sentencing Commis-
24 sion, African-Americans, on average, now serve al-25 most as much time in Federal prison for a drug of-

1 fense (58.7 months) as Whites do for a violent of-2 fense (61.7 months).

3 (14) According to the U.S. Sentencing Commis-
4 sion, in 2013, almost 34 percent of women entering 5 Federal prison did so for a drug offense. Linking 6 drug quantity with punishment severity has had a 7 particularly profound impact on women, who are 8 more likely to play peripheral roles in a drug enter-9 prise than men. However, because prosecutors can 10 attach drug quantities to an individual regardless of 11 the level of a defendant's participation in the 12 charged offense, women have been exposed to in-13 creasingly punitive sentences to incarceration.

14 (15) Low-level and mid-level drug offenders can 15 be adequately prosecuted by the States and punished
16 or supervised in treatment as appropriate.

17 (16) The Departments of Justice, the Treasury, 18 and Homeland Security are the agencies with the 19 greatest capacity to investigate, prosecute and dis-
20 mantle the highest level of drug trafficking organiza-
21 tions. Low-level drug offender investigations and 22 prosecutions divert Federal personnel and resources
23 from prosecuting high-level traffickers.

24 (17) Congress must have the most current in-25 formation on the number of prosecutions of high-

1 level and low-level drug offenders in order to prop-
2 erly reauthorize Federal drug enforcement programs.

3 (18) Congress has an obligation to taxpayers to 4 use sentencing policies that are cost-effective and in-5 crease public safety, in addition to establishing a 6 criminal justice system that is fair, efficient, and 7 provides just sentences for offenders. Mandatory
8 sentences have not been conclusively shown to re-9 duce recidivism or deter crime.

10 (19) Prisons are important and expensive; the 11 limited resources in the Federal criminal justice sys-
12 tem should be used to protect society by incapaciti-
13 ating dangerous and violent offenders who pose a 14 threat to public safety. The Federal judiciary has 15 the expertise and is in the best position to sentence 16 each offender and determine who should be sent to 17 Federal prisons and the amount of time each of-18 fender should serve.

19 SEC. 3. APPROVAL OF CERTAIN PROSECUTIONS BY ATTOR-
20 NEY GENERAL.

22 trolled Substances Act, the Controlled Substances Import
